The Murmurmontis

Nineteen Thirty-One

Volume Forty-Four

Published by the Junior Class of

West Virginia Wesleyan College

Foreword

THE 1931 Murmurmontis seeks to picture on its pages the glorious advancement of West Virginia Wesleyan and the accomplishments of her students in the past school year. Wesleyan, with a notable record of achievement, with an alumni that has taken leadership in the business and professional world, and with a faculty that ranks with the best in the country, may well be proud of this, her twenty-fifth anniversary as a modern college.

SHERMAN L. RICHARDS

Dedication

To the memory of S. L. Richards, one of Wesleyan's most generous patrons and truest friends, this volume is dedicated. For many years a trustee of the College, he gave untiringly of his time and means. His sterling character and Christian leadership cannot easily be replaced.

ALMA MATER of the Mountains, West Virginia Wesleyan.
At thy magic mystic fountains noblest dreams of life began.
We, thy children, bow before thee;
We, thy children, now adore thee,
And pledge God, Who watches o'er thee,
Thou shalt fill the ample measures of His plan.

Alma Mater, Queen of Learning, of the Orange and the Black,
At thy call to wisdom turning nought of worth thy sons shall lack.
For the teaching of thy sages,
With the writ of sacred pages,
Shall transmit the wealth of ages,
Down the future's ever-wider, brighter track.

Alma Mater of the Highlands, guardian of romantic years,
Thou dost bring us to the skylands, with thy faith dispel our fears,
Give us friendship waning never,
And a call to high endeavor,
And companionship forever,
With the God who guides the courses of the spheres.

Alma Mater of the Mountains, West Virginia Wesleyan,
At thy magic mystic fountains noblest dreams of life began.
We, thy children, bow before thee;
We, thy children, now adore thee,
And pledge God, Who watches o'er thee,
Thou shalt fill the ample measures of His plan.

CLASSES

SENIORS

"Love can sun the realms of night.
—Schiller

Laura, I hope you will not forget the Class of '30 and some of its good times. "Preach"

LUCILLE RICHNER MALCOLM, A. B.

WOODSFIELD, OHIO

Sigma Delta Chi, Y. W. C. A., Pan-Hellenic Council '29-'30.

"Domestic happiness, thou only bliss of Paradise that has survived the fall!"

Truly one of the happiest of domestic souls, Lucille is keeping house this year and also going to school. She seems to find all duties a joy, and one doubts if there are ever any altercations in her little love-nest. Our pleasantest memories will include the thought of Lucille and "Preach" in the hall or strolling about the campus.

EDWARD W. MALCOLM, A. B.

FARMINGTON, W. VA.

Chi Alpha Tau, Treas. '26, '28, '29, Senior Class Pres. '30, Junior Class Vice-Pres., Weslevan Players, Pi Kappa Delta, Intra-Mural Basketball; Y. M. C. A., Pan-Hellenic Council.

"He who has learned to love —and only he—has learned to live."

Now that "Preach" has his amours settled satisfactorily, he has turned his attention to the extra-curricular activities of school life and found that success awaits him there. His classmates have awarded him the honor of several executive positions this year, and he has taken it upon himself to win honors in debate.

MADELINE MORTON, B. S.

NITRO, W. VA.

Tallagewe, Y. W. C. A., Vice-Pres. '28-'29, House Government of Agnes Howard Hall, Vice-Pres. '27-'28, Chresto-Excelsior Literary; Murmurmontis Staff '30, Benzene Ring, Philosophical Club '26, '28.

"Her voice was ever soft, gentle, and low—an excellent thing in woman."

A young lady who combines the pleasing qualities of friendliness, humor, and dependability. She is charming in conversation, and possesses that gift of understanding which is so essential in forming friendships. She has been active in Y. W. C. A. work and as vice-president contributed much to the strengthening of the society.

my dearest Laura,
I have only one serious objection ...
you. You are always squeezing me in ...
Junior Class. But just the same ...
the years and our "family" would not ...
complete ...
... friends, and have had a good influence ...
... many. There are lots of things ...
say but for lack of space I will not.
You will always be doing things? ...
... and we will always remember ...

RUTH SWENTZEL, B. S

WEST UNION, W. VA.

Benzene Ring. Vice-Pres. '29. Chresto-Excelsior. Sec. '29. Y. W. C. A.

"The great end of life is not knowledge but action."

Ruth has such an ardent and energetic nature that we think of her first of all as active and carefree, yet she applies herself diligently to the tasks of education. She is friendly and obliging to all her classmates, and enjoys taking part in athletic contests. It is a real pleasure to see her and her sister doing "tumbling" stunts.

PAUL K. FUNK, A. B.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

Chi Alpha Tau. Pres. of Freshman and Sophomore Class. Vice-Pres. Senior Class. Debating. Intra-Mural Basketball and Track. Kappa Lambda Sigma.

"That which ordinary men are fit for, I am qualified in, and the best of me is diligence."

Paul is always self-possessed and is a man of undeniable ability. He has been popular and has received recognition of his worth since his first days in Wesleyan. During his freshman and sophomore years he was honored by the presidency of the classes, and since his return this year has distinguished himself in debate work.

Laura: I guess we have had some experiences that we will never forget. I know I will be better for the friendships I have made in P. H. D. I will especially remember you and your aunt. Trip to Park. white cat.

Paul

JENNIE MATILDA BACKUS, A. B.

SUMMERSVILLE, W. VA.

Sigma Pi Delta. Pres. '29-'30. Excelsior Literary. '28-'29. Y. W. C. A. Philosophical Club.

"She is cheerful, hopeful, and helpful towards all humans."

When Jennie first came to college, she must have decided that she was going to smile, be cheerful, and helpful to others, and study industriously. She has fulfilled each of these items, and patience and kindness of character are her rewards. She should be splendid as a teacher, for the pupils will all like and respect her.

Best wishes for your success in instructing the young of the land

Jen

Dana:
How can I ever thank you for all the work you have done for me? It's a big work but we will probably have more to each other. Anyway sometime. Good luck
Randall

RANDALL HAMRICK, A. B.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Chi Alpha Tau, Pres. Student Council, Editor Murmurmonlis '30, Business Manager Pharos '29, Business Manager Handbook '28, Wesleyan Play-Shop, Student Council '27-'28, Intra-Mural Basketball.

"It is not the places that grace men, but men the places."

Truly is this illustrated in the case of our Student Council President, Randall Hamrick. He has probably held more responsible offices than any other man in the Senior Class, yet he manages to have a good time, attend to his school work, and enjoy popularity among his fellow-students. In addition to other talents, he possesses dramatic ability which has won him a place in many plays during his college career. But above all, we like "Lefty" for his earnest, frank, and cheerful manner.

KATHRYN LANHAM VICKERS, A. B.

SISTERSVILLE, W. VA.

Sigma Delta Chi, Pres. '29-'30, Treas. '27-'29, Sec. Senior Class, Pan-Hellenic Council '29-'30, Sec. '29-'30, Y. W. C. A., Cabinet '28-'29, Haught Literary Club '28, Student Speaking Tour '28, '29.

"The beautiful are never desolate;
But someone always loves them."

Sweet, demure, charming, and lovely, "K" has smiled her sunny way into the hearts of Wesleyan students. Her lovable personality and demure appearance make us think of the "old-fashioned girl", but she reveals herself to be so full of fun and bubbling over with laughter that she readily takes her place in the activities of modern life. We will miss her in Wesleyan, and we wish her contentment and happiness in the future.

CLARK WHITE, B. S.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Chi Alpha Tau, Benzene Ring, Pres. '28-'29, Varsity Tennis '29, Y. M. C. A., Student Council, Intra-Mural Basketball; Chemistry Assistant.

"The wisest man could ask no more of fate
Than to be simple, modest, manly, true."

Clark is one of those chaps who goes about greeting everyone with a friendly smile and doing his work in a quiet, unobtrusive way. He always seems carefree and happy, but we know that he does just lots of work down there in the laboratory. It is truly a gift to be able to meet life's duties in such a cheerful way, and yet to be competent in the execution of tasks also.

Somewhere in the future,
when you're feelin' blue,
Just cut our
"murmurer" and you'll say Hello!
to you

Fred.

FRED C. ROBERTS, B. S.

HAMBLETON, W. VA.

Chi Alpha Tau, Sec., Benzene Ring; Business Manager Pharos, Y. M. C. A. Track

"Describe him who can—An abridgement of all that is pleasant in a man—a master of circumstances."

Here is an energetic, competent, courteous man, who will always be ready to meet the emergencies of life with steady, undaunted mien. He has been highly efficient in carrying out the duties of the various business offices which he has held in college, and we predict a future of great success for him.

LOTA GARVIN WILLIAMS

MOUNDSVILLE, W. VA.

Chi Kappa Alpha, Pres. '29-'30, Pan-Hellenic Council, Treas., Y. W. C. A., Intra - Mural Board, Senior Class Treas., Vice-Pres. of Agnes Howard Hall.

"With women the heart argues, not the mind."

But perhaps it would be better to say that with women both heart and mind argue, for if one is in love and has found the right man, is it not the affair of the mind as well as of the heart? However that may be, Lota has proved herself a friendly and attractive person and is well-liked in Wesleyan.

HEYWARD WILLIAMS

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Kappa Alpha, Varsity Basketball '29, Chamber of Commerce, Treasurer '29.

"A man of inches, and every inch a man."

Although "Hay" completed his college work in last year's summer term, he has been vitally interested in Wesleyan this year. So much so indeed, that he has left his teaching center of Fairview to come up and visit this fair city almost every week-end. But we understand it, we think a lot of "Hay", and we know they'll both be happy.

CLARA VIRGINIA
SIGAFOOSE, A.B

MOUNDSVILLE, W. VA.

Tallagewe, Y. W. C. A., Haught Literary Club, Benzene Ring, Chresto-Excelsior Literary Society, Sec. '28-'29, Vice-Pres. '29-'30; Executive Board '28-'29, Murmurmontis Staff, Philosophical Club.

"Her smile is sweetened by her gravity."

'Tis all right to say that she is grave and that her smile is sweet, but Clara is more than this — she has gaiety, and friendliness, and happiness also, and is quick to respond with kindness to the friendliness of others. Books are companions to her and hiking is one of her chief pleasures.

JOHN FOWKES, A.B

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Kappa Alpha, Benzene Ring, Treas., '28, Pan-Hellenic Council, Vice-Pres., Leaders Club, Intra-Mural Athletics, Pharos Staff, Athletic Editor Murmurmontis '30.

"The manly part is to do with might and main what you can do."

How can we speak more highly of a man than to say that he has done his tasks with might and main? There is no question but that John has concluded efficiently everything he has undertaken. In addition to the respect and admiration we have for him, we like his cheerful smile and friendly, courteous manner.

AMY LOU SIMMERMAN

CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

Sigma Delta Chi, Glee Club '26, '29, Wesleyan Players '26-'27.

"When she sings, all stop to listen."

Amy Lou is undoubtedly a talented but a capricious maid. Didst ever see a more mischief-loving mortal? She can play the clown with zest, or sing as sweetly and as innocently as a bird. She has displayed excellent ability in acting, and was a valuable member of the Glee Club.

LAURA RECTOR, A.B.

MINERAL WELLS, W. VA.

Tallagewe, Pres. '29-'30, '28-'29, Tau Delta Rho, Pres. '29-'30 Women's Debate Manager '28-'29 Murmurmontis Staff Chairman of Class Ring Committee Intra-Mural Board '29, Y. W. C. A., Chresto-Excelsior Literary Pres. '27, Vice-Pres. '28, Philosophical Club, Sec. '28-'29

"She hath prosperous art when she will play with reason and discourse, and well she can persuade."

A most energetic, capable, and versatile young lady! Laura helped to start women's debate work in Wesleyan and has done her part in keeping up the fine record of the team. She is also one of the few students who have been called upon to speak in chapel, and on that occasion she responded in a wholly satisfactory manner. She is ready to meet any task with the necessary tools at hand.

KELLY RODRIGUEZ, A.B.

NEWARK, N. J.

Kappa Alpha, Football '26, '27, '28, '29, Track '29, '30, Intra-Mural Basketball, Varsity Club, Y. M. C. A.

"Strength of heart and might of limb, but mainly use and skill, are winners in this pastime."

Where will we be in football without the "Spanish Armada"? They shout, "Kelly has the ball!"—and away we go for a touchdown! He has the thrill of the fight in him, his eyes actually glow with the joy of the struggle, and he comes up smiling from the midst of the fray. Good luck, Kelly, and may all your battles in life be fought as cleanly and successfully as those in which you have participated at Wesleyan.

ANGELENE PRICE, A.B.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Sigma Delta Chi.

"Worldly wise, exceedingly clever, and in every way up-to-date."

One might readily say that "Dude" is one of the neatest, most self-possessed and attractive girls in Wesleyan. "Still to be neat, still to be drest, as you were going to a feast"; very aptly describes her appearance. She is rather reserved in manner, but has made many friends among her classmates. Her future should be a happy one and her attractive appearance will go far in making the road easy for her.

TROY M. WAKEFIELD, A.B.

KINGWOOD, W. VA.

Y. M. C. A.

"I, thus neglecting worldly ends, all dedicated to closeness and the bettering of my mind."

His studiousness would lead us to believe this statement, and yet Troy has found time to cultivate a deep friendship with one of the co-eds. However, it is a pleasure to see the earnestness of this young man as he sits working for long hours in the library, and through this endeavor, he won the honor of being first in scholarship among the men of the school

ROSIE L. SMITH, A.B.

HARRISVILLE, W. VA.

Tallagewe, Y. W. C. A.

"To make the world a friendly place
One must show it a friendly face."

Rosie does show the world a friendly face, for she is always smiling and obliging. She is quiet and unobtrusive and shall make no enemies in the world by meanness or nastiness of character, for she has none of that. She enjoys kodaking and finds much pleasure in books.

Dear Laura,
I shall always think of you as a dear friend. Remember, Rosie

EVERETT J. SCHULTZ, B.S.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.

Sigma Eta Delta

"Ah, why should life all labour be?"

Everett did play a dirty trick on us this year—he went home and got married, and we didn't find it out until sometime later. What if one of the co-eds had showered her attentions upon him and then discovered that he is married! But we'll forgive him, and wish him future happiness, and hope that his memories of Wesleyan will be pleasant ones

MELVIN EDWARD ROBERTS, A.B.

MADISON, W. VA.

Broaddus College

"He most lives who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

Melvin Roberts came to Wesleyan from Broaddus at the beginning of the second semester, therefore we haven't had much opportunity to become very well acquainted with him. His humor and his friendly manner have pleased us greatly, however, and his earnest application to his work has won our respect. We feel that the class is richer by having his name on the list of graduates.

HELEN DEW DAVISSON

JANE LEW, W. VA.

Chi Omega; Wesleyan Choir, Girls' Glee Club '26-'27, '27-'28

"A daughter of the gods— Divinely tall, and most divinely fair."

In choosing to return to Wesleyan after a year at the University, Helen has demonstrated her record for this school. Also, she has brought back to us her musical talent which has proved valuable in the Wesleyan Choir. Her vivacity is a great asset to her here, as it will be elsewhere, and she appears to possess a real interest in her work.

DAVID ECHOLS REEMSNYDER, B.S.

CUYAHOGA FALLS, OHIO

Chi Alpha Tau, Murmurmontis Staff '29, Student Council '28, '29, Varsity Club, Leaders Club, Football '26, '27, '28, '29, Track '29, Manager of Inter-Mural Basketball League, Y. M. C. A., Benzene Ring, Basketball Squad '27, '28

"Formed on the good old plan: A true and brave and downright honest man."

The "biggest-hearted" fellow that we know! "Big Dave" is as big in heart as he is in size and that is certainly going some! His considerateness and friendliness toward others have made him probably the best-liked student on the campus, and he is so nice and unselfish that his popularity hasn't made him the least bit "high-hat." We'll never forget his friendly smile nor the good work he has done for Wesleyan on the football field.

HENRY MILLER, B.S.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

Sigma Tau Delta; Football '26, '27, '28, '29; Captain '29; Class Basketball '26, '27, '28, '29; Track '28.

"God bless the man who first invented sleep!
So Sancho Panza said, and so say I."

A big, strong man who has used his brawn to good advantage for the past four years on Wesleyan's football team. Through his prowess, he won the honor of being elected football captain this year. "Hen" is good-natured, more than a little sleepy at times, and rarely ever serious, but he is always friendly and might truthfully be called "big-hearted".

MARY WATTS LINDSEY, A.B.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Kappa Phi Omega, Pres. '29-'30, Haught Literary Club; Wesleyan Choir

"What's female beauty, but an air divine,
Through which the mind's all-gentle graces shine?"

What a charming, sweet, and beautiful, little lady! And as has been so aptly written in reference to her, "for all her demureness—wise and merry." The loveliness of her personality defies the description of words, so it must suffice us to say that in addition to her fairness, she is gentle, loyal, kind, and possesses many admirable talents.

CHARLES D. MUNSON, A.B.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Chi Alpha Tau, Vice-Pres.; Murmurmontis Business Manager '29, Football Manager '27, Wesleyan Chamber of Commerce, Pres. '27, Vice-Pres. '28, Intra-Mural Basketball Manager '28, '29, Class Treasurer '27, Y. M. C. A.

"He has the common sense of seeing things as they are
And doing them as they ought to be done."

Here is our old friend "Charlie" with his smiles, his jokes, and his matter-of-fact good sense. Whenever a position is open which calls for brains, character, business ability, "Charlie" is called upon to fill it. He has always made good in these positions of trust, and we feel safe in predicting that his future will be a prosperous one.

CARL H. NELSON, A.B.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

Kappa Alpha, Benzene Ring, Kappa Lambda Literary, Y. M. C. A., Chresto Excelsior Literary Society

"What then remains, but well
our power to use,
And keep good-humor still,
whate'er we lose?"

A long, lanky, good-natured, but rather indifferent fellow! He comes to classes regularly, conducts himself in a quiet, gentlemanly manner, and isn't particularly interested in the co-eds. But for all his reserve, Carl is ever courteous and obliging, therefore is well-liked among the students. There is, too, a certain earnestness of purpose about him which promises great things for the future.

GENEVIEVE SEXTON, A.B.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

"She'll suit her bearing to the hour,
Laugh, listen, learn, or teach."

That is exactly what "Gen" can do, because all who know her like her for her charming and friendly manner. She has been able to adapt herself to the college environment while teaching in the public school at the same time. There is no doubt but that one with such an industrious and friendly spirit will succeed in whatever she may undertake.

RAYMOND WEBER, B.S.

WESTON, W. VA.

Sigma Eta Delta, Intra-Mural Board, Wesleyan Chamber of Commerce

"A man in all the world's new fashion planted
That hath a mint of phrases in his brain."

"Buck's" dramatic talents had lain dormant until this year when he appeared with very creditable success in "The Doll's House" and "The Valiant". However, his sudden success in dramatics is not at all surprising, for his stage presence is pleasing and he is the handsome type of man who can play the ideal lover. The admirable quality about him, though, is that he is as courteous and pleasant off the stage as on.

LESSELL C. RUCKER, A.B.

CHARLESTON, W. VA.

"Sure, he that made us with such large discourse,
Looking before and after, gave us not
That capability and godlike reason
To fust in us unused."

Lessel Rucker has been with us for only the past two years, but during that time he has won our admiration by his sincerity and uprightness of character. He has been able to carry on his religious work and make a good record for himself in school at the same time. His capability and also dependability will make him a reliable and efficient worker in whatever he undertakes.

MARY ELLEN DORSEY, A.B.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. VA.

Kappa Phi Omega; Haught Literary Club; Y. W. C. A., Chairman of Student Conference Fund '27, Hockey Manager for Intra-Mural Sports '29, Basketball Manager '26, '27, '28; Girls' Glee Club, '25 '26, Wesleyan Choir.

"I count life just a stuff
To try the soul's strength on."

It was with joy that we welcomed Mary Ellen back to our midst this year after an absence of two years. We had missed the gaiety and decisiveness of action which are hers, for her guiding phrase seems to be—"pleasure and action make the hours seem short." She is always able to find something to say, something to do, and something to enjoy.

ROSS CULPEPPER, A.B.

CHARLESTON, W. VA.

Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity; Choir; Y. M. C. A.

"You hear that boy laughing?
You think he's all fun;
But the angels laugh, too,
At the good he has done."

The Senior class was pleased to add Ross Culpepper to its roll this year when he came to finish his college work here. He is gifted with a fine personality, for he is witty, generous, earnest, and spiritual. He has become popular in student circles besides doing splendid work on his pastorate and making good in class records.

Dear Laura, Been a wonderful year - and best this has been - and I feel you further out - I had a heart under the cold state - but I just enjoyed talking to you - and your Fun relations as true friend - but I'll try and put such - but I'll miss you - night your - and I'll write you from Europe - so you know - this still the same. always - now! -Mary Ellen Bass

ALICE LOUISE KERCHEVAL, A B

FUNSELTON, W. VA.

Kappa Phi Omega Sec. '29-'30 Senior Representative of Agnes Howard Hall Governing Board, Y. W. C. A

"Kind to the core, brave, merry, and true."

When you want someone to sympathize with you, laugh with you or plan some meanness with you, just hunt up Louise. She will always adapt herself to your mood and can do any one of these things to perfection. She is loyal, and she isn't the least afraid of criticism when she is doing what she knows is right. Her anger can be aroused only by unjust treatment of others

FORD LEWIS CASTO, B S

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Sigma Eta Delta, Pres., '29 Intra-Mural Board Orchestra '27, 28 '29, Pan-Hellenic Council, Vice-Pres '28-'29, Glee Club '26

"Work, study, and love—and the greatest of these is love."

A real lover of music, a good student, and one who indulges in the humor and gaiety of life. It is a pleasure to hear him play the "sax" and he uses other musical instruments readily too. He is continually surprising us with the fund of knowledge which he possesses concealed behind that calm, easy, rather flippant manner.

A good friend
Ford L. Casto.

ETHELYND BONAFIELD, A B.

TUNNELTON, W. VA.

Kappa Phi Omega Treas. '29-'30, Y. W. C. A., Haught Literary Club; Pharos Reporter.

"She hath a knowledge of both books and humankind."

Surely, this young lady isn't a bookworm! Not exactly, but she knows so much about so many books that one wonders how she can read them all and still enjoy herself so much. It is discouraging to studious souls to see her riding around every day and yet come prepared to classes. In addition to these abilities, "Net" can put on a clown act that makes you weep with laughter.

RETA CASTO, B.S.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Tallagewe Vice-Pres. '27-'28, Sec. '28-'29, Treas. '29-'30, Sec. of Orchestra, '26-'27; Philosophical Club '28, '29; Chresto-Excelsior Literary; Band '27, '28, '29

"The hand that hath made you fair hath made you good."

As she is of a rather quiet nature, perhaps Reta is not so well-known among the students. However, they all appreciate her talents when she appears with the orchestra or the band whenever they are called upon to play. Her work has been done quietly but thoroughly, and we feel that she will never fail for lack of ability.

EDGAR R. CHRISTOPHER, A.B.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.

Y. M. C. A.; Wesleyan Chour, Wesleyan Male Quartet; Chresto-Excelsior Chorister; Philosophy Club; Pres. '28-'29; Intra-Mural Basketball '26, '28, '29, '30; Glee Club '25, '27.

"Oh, what men dare do! What men may do! What men daily do, not knowing what they do."

When you hear someone speak up in class with evident pleasure at the idea of arousing an argument, you immediately think of Christopher. His chief delight is in bandying words, and if he can get the best of an argument, he is satisfied until the next one begins. His attitude toward life is "why is this thus? What is the reason of this thusness?"

GERALDINE CORE, B.S.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Tallagewe, Social Chairman '26-'29, Chresto-Excelsior Literary; Y.W.C.A.; Orchestra '25, '26; Band '26, '28.

"Moderation is the silken string running through the pearl chain of all virtues."

Geraldine has a well-balanced character which is comforting and pleasant because it does not jump to extremes. She has a calming effect on others who are more excitable or who become depressed more readily. Duties and tasks should be easier for her because she can face them with a calm and steady mind.

J. HAROLD HARSHBARGER, B.S.

MILTON, W. VA.

Chi Alpha Tau; Orchestra; Intra-Mural Basketball

"A merrier man,
Within the limit of becoming mirth,
I never spent an hour's talk withal."

It seems that Harold always has something to laugh about, for when there isn't anything funny or entertaining, he produces the humor himself. This cheerful disposition has insured his popularity in college, and will make the future bright and free from care for him. His musical talents are also an asset to him, and during his college life he has made good use of them in the college orchestra.

NELL JONES
HARSHBARGER, A.B

EAST BANK, W. VA.

Sigma Delta Chi, Treas.; Y. W. C. A.; Student Instructor Chemistry 1.

"A great mind is a good sailor, as a great heart is."

Rarely do we meet a nicer combination of ability and sociability. Nell seems to have a knack of getting along with everyone and never appearing to be over-studious, yet we know that she spends long hours in the laboratory doing her work as a chemistry assistant. In addition to her interest and recognition in science courses, she has a high standard of scholarship in other classes.

J. FRANK WILLIAMS, B.S.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

Chi Alpha Tau; Varsity Basketball '28, '29, '30; Varsity Track '29, '30; Captain '29, '30; Benzene Ring; Murmurmontis Staff '29-'30; Chamber of Commerce.

"And bring me word, how tall is he?"

A tall, thin individual whose appearance makes you think of the "india-rubber ball" shadow in the children's rhyme. However, he is by no means a shadow, for we are all well-aware of his presence in Wesleyan. Besides being a popular student, he has made himself prominent in track, having been captain of the team last year, and in basketball, for when he gets a streak of luck he can certainly make the score mount up.

RUBY SWENTZEL, B.S.

West Union, W. Va

Chresto-Excelsior Literary Society; Y. W. C. A.; Benzene Ring, Sec. '29; Class Basketball Manager '28.

"Nothing is impossible to a willing heart."

This may truly be said of Ruby, for she not only does her work conscientiously, but cheerfully as well. She is always ready with the helping hand, but she rarely asks it for herself. Chemistry is interesting to her, yet she can readily divert her mind from the realms of science to the intricacies of somersaulting and rope-climbing.

NEWTON SAMUEL ANDERSON, A.B.

Clarksburg, W. Va

Sigma Eta Delta, Vice-Pres.; Football '28, '29

"I saw the proper twinkle in your eye—
Tell you, I liked your looks at the very first"

The best way to get along in this world is just to "grin and bear it". The wonderful thing about "Newt", though, is that his grin is so contagious. It is true that he has been with us only two years, but during that time he has had no trouble fitting into Wesleyan life, having proved himself equally capable in the classroom and on the athletic field.

MARY ELIZABETH COLEMAN, A.B.

Gassaway, W. Va

Kappa Phi Omega, Chaplain '29-'30; Pharos '26, '27, '28, '29; Murmurmontis Staff '28-'29; House Government Ladies Hall, Vice-Pres. '28-'29; Haught Literary Club, Vice-Pres. '29-'30; Y. W. C. A.; Orchestra '28-'29, '29-'30; Class Basketball '27-'28, '28-'29.

"Happy am I; from care I'm free!
Why aren't they all contented like me?"

Beth always seems happy and carefree, yet we sometimes wonder if she can really feel as pleasant and carefree as she acts. This cheerful disposition has made a large circle of friends for her. In addition to her companionable traits, she possesses musical talent that has proved useful to others in time of need, and has won their admiration on the concert stage.

HANNAH E. JAYNE, A.B.

KINGSTON, PA.

Previously attended Chesbro Jr. College, N. Y., and Greenville College, Ill.

"Good temper, like a sunny day,
Sheds brightness over everything."

Her laughter ripples out with the most contagious ring at the most unexpected times. She really seems quite a happy-go-lucky person, but we know that when she has something to say, it is always worth listening to However, we admire her most for that cheerful quality that makes the rest of us feel happy too.

ARTHUR ABRAHAM APPLEBAUM, A.B.

ELLWOOD CITY, PA.

Pi Lambda Phi National Fraternity. Football '28, '29. Basketball '29, '30; Geneva College and U. of Pittsburgh.

"A mind that thinks and a hand that works."

Perhaps it is because he intends to be a lawyer, but whatever the reason, Mr Applebaum is an interesting conversationalist Usually quite pleasant too, but oh! how sarcastic he can be at times. "Apple" has been at Wesleyan only two years, but during that time he has been an asset in both football and basketball. He is a good student, and—well—he makes high marks in Latin too, they say.

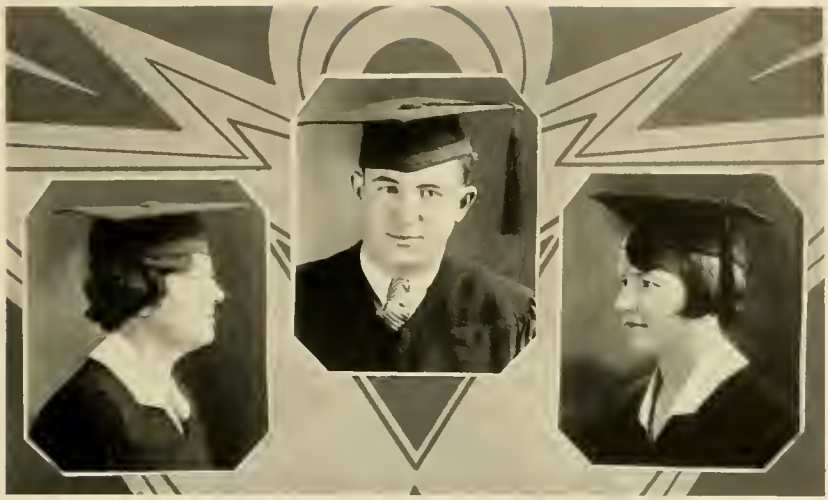
MARTHA DRUMMOND, A.B.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Sigma Delta Chi, Y. W. C. A., Girls' Athletic Board.

"For where is any author in the world teaches such beauty as a woman's eye?"

Martha is petite, charming, and, indeed, "of a sweetness that is most persuasive". It is hard to imagine her as ruling in the schoolroom, but perhaps the children will be good "Just for dear teacher's sake". However, we really have no doubt but that she will meet with success, for her charms will make life easy for her.



MARY FORMAN, A.B.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA.

Weslevan Academy

"Dignity is the sweetness of womanhood."

Mary is this year finishing her work for a college degree, but she already has a wealth of experience to her credit. She finished in the Academy here, and since then has been teaching and taking work in college at the same time. She has applied herself as readily and as efficiently to the work of a student as to that of a teacher.

E. GRANT HUTCHINSON, A.B.

PHILIPPI, W. VA.

Kappa Alpha. Sport Editor of the Pharos; Pharos Board of Control, Commerce Club '28, Weslevan Choir '28, Y. M. C. A., Chresto-Excelsior Literary Society.

"Whatever Sceptic could inquire for,
For every why he had a wherefore."

Someday, when Grant has finished the hardest part of his life's work, when he has had many experiences (and imagines many that he hasn't had), he'll sit with a group of wondering children about him and tell them the biggest yarns you ever heard! This yarn-telling isn't a fault — it's a gift! You listen to him with doubt, but he makes you like it!

MARY F. EDWARDS, A.B.

BROAD-FORD, PA.

Haught Literary Club, Sec. and Treas. '29-'30, Y. W. C. A.

"She that was ever fair and never proud,
Had tongue at will, and yet was never loud."

A quick laugh, as sudden a frown, a girl of changing moods. However, these moods are not depressing or wearisome for they are hers only — she does not inflict them upon others. Sometimes we find her as serene as a cloudless summer sky, and sometimes she is a bit reserved, but at all times she is interested in and interesting to others.

Alma Mater

I sing a song of you, Alma Mater—
Wesleyan: when leaves, bright with Autumn,
Whisper and crackle laughing under foot;
When the keen haze of dusk, golden and sweet,
Filters through my heart.

I sing a song of you, Alma Mater—
Wesleyan: when the diamond mantle of the snow,
Sparkling and crisp, bends down the trees,
Sending the thrill of your beauty
Glowing through my veins.

I sing a song of you, Alma Mater—
Wesleyan: when the vernal breeze of Spring
Sweeps clean my very soul,
Filling me with love of you,
Of life, of joy, of earth.

I sing a song of you, Alma Mater—
Wesleyan: four years leaping swiftly
Over my heart, leaving there memories,
Of an enchanting life, ineffably sweet,
Passing swiftly over my heart.

West Virginia

In the first major game of the season, the Bob Cats encountered West Virginia University at Morgantown. This game being the lid-opener of both the Bob Cats' and the Mountaineers' football season. It was the twenty-second annual clash of the two elevens.

Wesleyan looked like a dangerous foe as the game opened. Captain Miller received the kick-off and ran 45 yards to the Mountaineers' 42-yard line. After making a first down, the Methodists fumbled and Bartrug recovered for West Virginia. After this sensational opening, both teams fought on even terms until the second quarter when West Virginia advanced the ball to Wesleyan's three-yard line. The Mountaineers attempted a pass which was batted down by a Wesleyan back. Rodriguez forced to kick from behind his own goal, got off a good punt to Larue who was downed on the 42-yard line. Bartrug went off left tackle for the first touchdown of the game after a smashing line attack. Score at end of first half—West Virginia 7; Wesleyan 0.

During the second half, Wesleyan ripped off gain after gain only to lose the ball by a fumble. The inexperienced Bob Cat line was shattered from stem to stern by the line attacks of the State school's backs. The Wesleyan backs, bearing the brunt of the fray on defense, were finally pushed aside and Bartrug went over for another marker. The game from this point on settled down to a punting duel with Rodriguez getting the better of the argument. West Virginia advanced the ball to Wesleyan's 20-yard line during the last few minutes and scored a field goal by a placement kick. The final score was: Wesleyan 0; West Virginia 16.

The opening battle of the season showed that Wesleyan had much to do in the experiencing of her line, if she was to have a successful season. The line dug down in the dirt and fought a very game fight, but the lack of experience was very noticeable. Wesleyan's backfield, dubbed one of the best set of backs in the country was not able to gain a great deal of ground without the line supporting them. This opening fray did much to strengthen the fighting ability of the whole team.

New York University

The Wesleyan Bob Cats trotted out upon the Polo Grounds in New York City before a crowd of thirty thousand, prepared to give the Violets the scare of their lives. Much had been said about the weak Wesleyan line, and the spectators were expecting to see Wesleyan's line fall before the heavy Violet backs. They were greeted with a surprise from the very first play of the game.

Wesleyan received the kick-off and Rodriguez returned it to his own 25-yard line. An exchange of punts was carried out and Wesleyan got the ball on its own 21-yard line. Battles turned N. Y. U.'s left end for a gain of twenty-five yards. Wesleyan tried a pass, which was batted down. N. Y. U. received a 15-yard penalty for clipping which placed the ball on N. Y. U.'s 30-yard line. Miller made a sensational catch of a pass for fifteen yards. Rodriguez picked up four yards at center. Rodriguez gained three more at right guard. Bachtel got two more through the line. On the fourth down with a yard to go, Rodriguez made first down on the 5-yard line. Battles failed to advance through the line. On the fourth down with one yard to go, Battles failed to make the distance. N. Y. U. punted, Follett, of N. Y. U., caught it and it was Wesleyan's ball on N. Y. U.'s 7-yard line. The quarter ended.

Three running plays failed to gain for Wesleyan On the fourth down a pass was attempted, but failed to connect. Thus Wesleyan's supreme opportunity went to naught.

Wesleyan's ground attack was far superior to that of N. Y. U.'s throughout the entire game, but when N. Y. U. started their aerial attack, Wesleyan was lost. All four of N. Y. U.'s touchdowns were made as a result of a pass. The Wesleyan backfield could not seem to solve the enigma of the Violets' passing. Wesleyan's entire line, although outweighed to a man, fought the N. Y. U. stalwarts to a standstill. Edmundson, Bob Cat center, played a great defensive game and Rodriguez carried off the offensive honor by his left-handed running.

The final score was: Wesleyan 0; New York University 26.

Georgetown

As usual, the Wesleyan Bob Cats entered the game at Washington, D. C., as the underdogs. Before the game had come to its finale, the Wesleyan team was fighting like mad dogs, but no one could see anything "under" about them. They knew they were up against a tough team and so they proceeded to play a game that no team could be ashamed of.

For three quarters, the Bob Cats fought as only mountain cats can fight. The Wesleyan team tossed the Hilltoppers of Georgetown back from their goal line for fifty minutes. The game during these fifty minutes was a gruelling hand-to-hand struggle. From the opening whistle to the break that made the first touchdown a possibility, the Bob Cats fought Georgetown to a standstill, gaining from one to five yards on every exchange of punts between Rodriguez and Captain Mooney of Georgetown. Only two first downs were registered in the first half, both of them by Georgetown. Neither team was able to penetrate its opponent's 20-yard line, and the edge for the half was Wesleyan's. Defensively, the Georgetown team outplayed Wesleyan.

In the final period Georgetown swept through the Wesleyan team for two touchdowns. Both of the touchdowns came as the result of "breaks". The first touchdown came after a fumble, and completely demoralized the Bob Cats. The second Georgetown score came as the result of a fumble again. The ball was fumbled on the kick-off and Georgetown recovered on Wesleyan's ten-yard line. After three downs, the final marker was pushed over. The final score was: Wesleyan 0; Georgetown 12.

The left side of the Bob Cat line, with Reemsnyder, giant tackle, and Hagerdon, end, leading the way was adamant and Georgetown gained little ground on plays sent in that direction. For the Bob Cats in the backfield, Rodriguez, Battles, and Bachtel led the way in ball carrying.

Wesleyan did well to hold Georgetown to such a low score, but if those breaks had been eliminated there would have been no scoring at all. Georgetown had one of the best teams in the East. Various sports writers in Washington gave Wesleyan the honor of being the scrappiest team to play in Washington during this year. All in all the Georgetown game was quite a victory for Wesleyan.

Navy

A weakened Wesleyan team took the field at Annapolis, Md., against the Naval Academy and proceeded to show the Navy lads some Bob Cat fighting spirit. Due to the fact that the Navy enforces a three-year playing rule, all of our seniors and freshmen were unable to participate in the game. Only one of the regular backfield was eligible and only four of the regular linemen were able to take part in the game. Nevertheless, the Wesleyan team held the strong Navy to a low score up until the closing moments of play.

The entire game was played in a swirl of snow, and underfoot, the field was a sea of mud. Neither the Bob Cats nor the Middies could pick up sufficient yardage for a first down, so several punts were exchanged. Battles, kicking for Wesleyan, outpunted the Navy kicker and picked up several needed yards in this way. Near the close of the first quarter, a punt was fumbled by a Wesleyan back and Navy obtained possession of the ball on Wesleyan's 30-yard line. The Navy team succeeded in plunging over a touchdown.

On the first play after the kick-off Battles cut through left tackle on a twenty-three yard line for first down on the Middies' 37-yard line. The Bob Cats were given another first down when a Navy man interfered with a pass. Battles ripped through the line for an eight yard gain. Wesleyan was penalized five yards here. Navy obtained possession of the ball as the quarter ended.

After a steady march up the field, the Naval Academy eleven scored another touchdown. The two teams were unable to advance consistently and so were forced to punt. The Navy team attempted a pass; a Wesleyan lineman knocked it down. Fordyce, tackle, scampered down the field with splendid interference for fifty yards and a touchdown. The half ended with the ball in Navy's possession.

During the last half the Navy coach used frequent substitutions and in this way wore down the Wesleyan team. Navy took advantage of its opportunities, recovering its own and Wesleyan's fumbles, intercepting two of the Bob Cat's passes and converting these "breaks" into points. Navy scored three touchdowns in this half, although threatening Wesleyan's goal at all times. The Wesleyan line stiffened inside its own ten-yard line and pounded back at least three more touchdowns. The final score: Wesleyan 6; Navy 30.

Marshall

The Wesleyan Bob Cats bared their fangs and claws and fought their hearts out on Thanksgiving Day at Huntington to administer the most stunning defeat of 1929 to Marshall's "Thundering Herd". The score was 28-to-0, or four touchdowns and a safety to nothing whatsoever, and the Bob Cats checked up points in each quarter. Captain Miller, Kelly Rodriguez and Cliff Battles, among others of the moleskin Bob Cats made football history with their deeds of gridiron valor, that will not soon be forgotten.

The Thanksgiving Day game opened with Marshall kicking off. Wesleyan marched up the field to Marshall's 42-yard line, where they were held for downs. The Herd took the ball but could not gain. Marshall attempted to kick, but big Dave Reemsnyder cut through the line and blocked it. Crites recovered on the 9-yard line. After two line plays, Rodriguez plunged through the line for a touchdown. After the kick off, Marshall succeeded in advancing the ball to the Bob Cat's 49-yard line. Here the Cat line held and Marshall was forced to punt. Wesleyan, after three line plays, had to kick. The Herd took the ball on its own 34-yard line. Edmundson intercepted a Marshall pass on the 45-yard line. Rodriguez and Battles carried the ball to the 10-yard line as the quarter ended.

Marshall stiffened and threw back the Bob Cat line plays. Stark kicked to his own 44-yard line. Wesleyan, unable to gain kicked in return. The Thundering Herd tried to thunder, but could nowhere get through the Wesleyan line. Stark's kick was blocked again and recovered by Capt. Miller, who raced for a touchdown. In the remainder of the period neither team was able to advance the ball and thus several exchanges of punts were carried on. The half ended with the ball in Marshall's possession in midfield.

At the opening of the half Wesleyan marched up the field to Marshall's 1-foot line:—Battles and Rodriguez being the big guns in this drive. Marshall's line held and they took possession of the ball. Stark fumbled in attempting to kick, but recovered behind his goal, giving Wesleyan a safety.

During the rest of the third quarter the ball was constantly in Marshall's territory, but Wesleyan could not push it over.

At the opening of the last quarter, Rodriguez passed to Battles for a 20-yard gain and a touchdown. Marshall now tried several long passes, but completing very few. One of these passes was intercepted by Miller on his own 13-yard line and he ran 87 yards for a touchdown. This play ended the scoring of the game. Final score: Wesleyan 28; Marshall 0.

Saint Xavier

A nemesis continued to follow Wesleyan even passing into our rival state of Ohio. The Bob Cat eleven playing superb football garnered eleven first downs to St. Xavier's six. In most games this array of first downs would have won easily, but not a break seemed to be coming our way. The St. Xavier Musketeers, by means of long passes and a break, managed to score nineteen points while we were gathering twelve.

The game opened, and it seemed as though the Wesleyan backs were going to have a track meet instead of a football game. On the first play, Battles, on a reverse play, ran 45 yards. Then the Cats lost the ball on downs. St. Xavier fumbled, Anderson recovering for Wesleyan on St. Xavier's 42-yard line. A pass, Battles to Hagerdon, brought the ball up to the 33-yard line. Battles, Bachtel and Rodriguez earned another first down. Wesleyan fumbled and St. Xavier recovered. The Musketeer team punted and Battles returned to his 44-yard line. Bachtel and Battles got another first ing drive took them deep into Wesleyan's territory, but the Wesleyan team held as Xavier threatened to score. Wesleyan punted to midfield. Two St. Xavier passes, down. This started a drive down the field, ending on a spinner play, by Battles, for 19 yards and a touchdown.

St. Xavier came back strong at the beginning of the second quarter. A smash- one for 35 yards and one for 11 yards, resulted in a touchdown. Both teams attempted several passes, but could not gain ground.

Shortly after the second half had started, a St. Xavier back ran 80 yards for a touchdown. After this touchdown, Wesleyan carried the ball from their own 20-yard line for a touchdown, using nothing but straight football. St. Xavier recovered a Wesleyan fumble on the kick off on the 45-yard line. Both teams punted. McDevitt, of St. Xavier, returned the punt to Wesleyan's 25-yard line and then slipped off tackle for 24 more yards. A touchdown was then made from the one-yard line on an end run. St. Xavier kicked off as the game ended. Final score: Wesleyan 12; St. Xavier 19.

Thus Wesleyan lost another game on long passes by their opponents. The pass jinx never seemed to let up for a moment, as the record of first down shows positively.

Salem

The Bob Cats functioning like a well-oiled machine crunched over Salem to the tune of 47 to 0. From the first it was just too bad for the Tenmile invaders, and by the time the timer's stop-watch indicated the completion of the first quarter, the count already stood 27 to 0. From that stage on, from a Wesleyan standpoint, the game might have easily been called "the substitutes' parade", for Coach Ross shoved every uniformed man into the contest at one point or another.

Although the Bob Cat attack slowed up a trifle with the second stringers on the field, its defense was just as adamantine and it journeyed along to score several times on the momentum furnished in the first quarter.

In three runs for touchdowns, Battles cleared the Salem tacklers for dashes of eighty-two, seventy-eight, and thirty-eight yards. Salem never penetrated beyond the Wesleyan thirty-yard line. Even the vaunted aerial game of the Tigers was of no avail.

The defeat was the worst which Wesleyan has ever administered to a Salem College team and one of the worst which the Tigers have ever received anywhere. It can never be said, however, that the Tigers did not go down fighting against the Bob Cats for they fought every inch of the way.

Cliff Battles made pretty end runs and Kelly Rodriguez plunged the line at will as Salem's small but fighting Tigers went down under a 47-to-0 gridiron attack. The Wesleyan line opened holes for the backs, through which an army tank might be driven. Every Wesleyan man was in there strutting his stuff and no team could have stopped them, least of all the Tigers of 1929.

Salem did not have such a strong team this year as formerly, but the Wesleyan Bob Cats were on a rampage and no snarling Tiger could even faze their numerous marches down the field. This was Wesleyan's great year and even the Salem Tigers had to admit the fact. Heretofore this game has been one hectic struggle, but this year it was seen early in the game who was to emerge as victor.

Bethany

Boasting superiority in weight and in experience, the Bob Cats of Wesleyan ran wild over the Bethany Bisons, rolling up a total of fifty-two points to nothing. The game was just one long string of Bob Cat advances, running the ends and breaking through the line at will. The hard-driving Wesleyan team could not be stopped and thus amassed quite a number of points. The Bisons showed little strength in the line, permitting terrific gains to be made through the wall by the hard-hitting Captain Miller and Beveridge who was filling the position of Rodriguez at fullback who was out of the line-up on account of illness. Gip Battles literally ran wild around the ends and off tackle, shaking the would-be Bison tacklers off and continuing on his way. These promiscuous long runs could not have been possible without the perfectly functioning Wesleyan line.

The Bob Cats ran up a total of 26 first downs to four for the Bisons, the latter never keeping the ball for any length of time and never penetrating the Bob Cat territory farther than the 40-yard line.

The Bob Cats rang up three markers in the opening period on end runs by Battles and through the line by Beveridge. In the second period two touchdowns were made, giving the Bob Cats a total of 32 points for the half.

During the last half, Coach Ross gave every substitute the opportunity of showing his stuff. The substitutes continued the practice of the regulars and two more touchdowns were garnered in the third quarter and one in the closing stanza.

Bethany came down here with a much heralded team and a very thrilling battle was anticipated. Wesleyan was primed for a tough struggle, but working like a fiery monster of old, it cast its opponents aside and continued on its way as if it had not been molested. The Bethany Bisons were no match for the Wesleyan Bob Cats on this day, and the alumni got quite a thrill from watching the track meet.

The game was the first between the Bisons and Bob Cats for a number of years. There has been a considerable amount of interest in the athletic relations of these two schools and a more suitable team could not have been found for Wesleyan's Home-Coming Day.

Concord

Wesleyan's season at home was ushered in with a victory over the Concord Mountain Lions. A fighting Bob Cat team performed brilliantly all afternoon and completely outplayed the highly touted Mountain Lion team from Concord State. The Bob Cats scoring at will, amassed a total of thirty-nine points while Concord gathered nothing.

Line plunging, off tackle plays, and passes, with Miller making some magnificent catches, made the game fast. In the opening period Rodriguez accounted for Wesleyan's first touchdown of the year and was closely followed by the second with F. Bachtel carrying the ball. Bachtel scored again near the close of the half.

Due to the fact that a large number of substitutions were used in the third quarter, no scoring was done In the final session, however, three touchdowns were made by Battles, Siandru, and A. Bachtel.

In this game the so-called weak line of Wesleyan earned for itself a new name by staunchly throwing back the Concord ranks.

Davis-Elkins

The Scarlet Hurricane of Davis-Elkins defeated the Wesleyan Bob Cats 13-0 in a hard fought battle. In the opening minutes of the game, Wesleyan made a drive from its own twenty-yard line. This was the only real threat brought forth by Wesleyan during the game.

After an eighty-yard advance, Davis-Elkins scored a marker in the first quarter. Their second score came late in the first half as a result of a long run by Smith, Davis-Elkins. The entire second half was a deadlock; neither team could advance the ball consistently enough to threaten to score. The first downs were even in this half. Rodriguez, Anderson and Reemsnyder shared the honors for Wesleyan.

This game was played under protest; Wesleyan protesting the eligibility of a Davis-Elkins man. The player was proven ineligible, and thus the game was won by Wesleyan through forfeit.

Track, 1929

This year, for the first time in a number of years, Wesleyan ventured forth with a track team. This venture was the result of considerable interest and track material present in the school. A good deal of the material, most of it in fact, was green and Head Track Coach Arthur H. Simons had his hands full in turning out an even mediocre squad. The squad, however, did exceedingly well for its first year of existence.

Only two meets were attempted this year and both were lost. The first meet was with West Virginia University. The State squad garnered 116½ points and Wesleyan 18½. Battles of Wesleyan, in the 110-yard high hurdles, took the only first place obtained by his team. Williams and Rhodes took second in the two-mile and hundred-yard dash respectively.

The second and last meet was with Waynesburg College. Waynesburg gathered 71 points and Wesleyan 64. Battles getting 10 points, Williams nine, and Rhodes nine, were high scorers for Wesleyan.

The season's letter men were: Captain "Flossie" Williams, "Gip" Battles, Harry Craig, Harold Rhodes, and Farland Arnold.

Basketball

The Wesleyan Bob Cat basketball squad was rather inexperienced at the first of the year, but at the close, a better functioning team was difficult to find. The nucleus of the 1929 team was lost by graduation and the prospects did not look so good for the 1930 squad.

However, after the season opened, the team appeared to be well rounded out, and as the record shows, every game was a tough one. The score was close in practically every game, except those we won by large scores. The climax of the season came when we handed the Mountaineer quintet a good trouncing. Away from home the team did not do so well, but at home we lost only two games out of seven. A number of games were lost by very close scores and the season's record of victories is not so laudable, yet that does not show the true worth of our team.

Tennis Team, 1929

The tennis squad, as it appeared when the first call came for the tennis aspirants, was very inexperienced and they felt that if any matches were to be won, they would have to do some tall hustling. Captain "Red" McDowell was the only letter-man from the previous year. With the assistance of Professor W. A. Hallam, "Red" and his team-mates became a well-rounded out aggregation before the season ended. The schedule was such tough sledding, however, that they won only two matches out of twelve. The season's record:

Wesleyan	2	Clarksburg	7

The Wesleyan Pharos
THE
STAFF

The Wesleyan Pharos

The characteristic policies that have determined the publication of the Pharos in the past have been adhered to by the staff in the planning of each issue during the year. The staff has endeavored to make the paper of the highest possible service to the students, administration, and all persons connected with the college, as well as making an attempt to carry out the highest standards of journalism.

Eight delegates were sent to the ninth annual convention of the Inter-collegiate Press Association which convened at Davis-Elkins College, and the editor-elect for next year, Elbert Goodwin, was elected President of the Association. The convention was largely attended, all the leading colleges in the state being represented.

The Pharos has a wide circulation among the alumni, and also a large list of exchanges. A keen interest is shown by the alumni as is evidenced by the numerous letters and comments from them.

The sound financial standing of the Pharos has been commendably maintained throughout the entire year. The paper has never been run on a more firm or efficient financial basis.

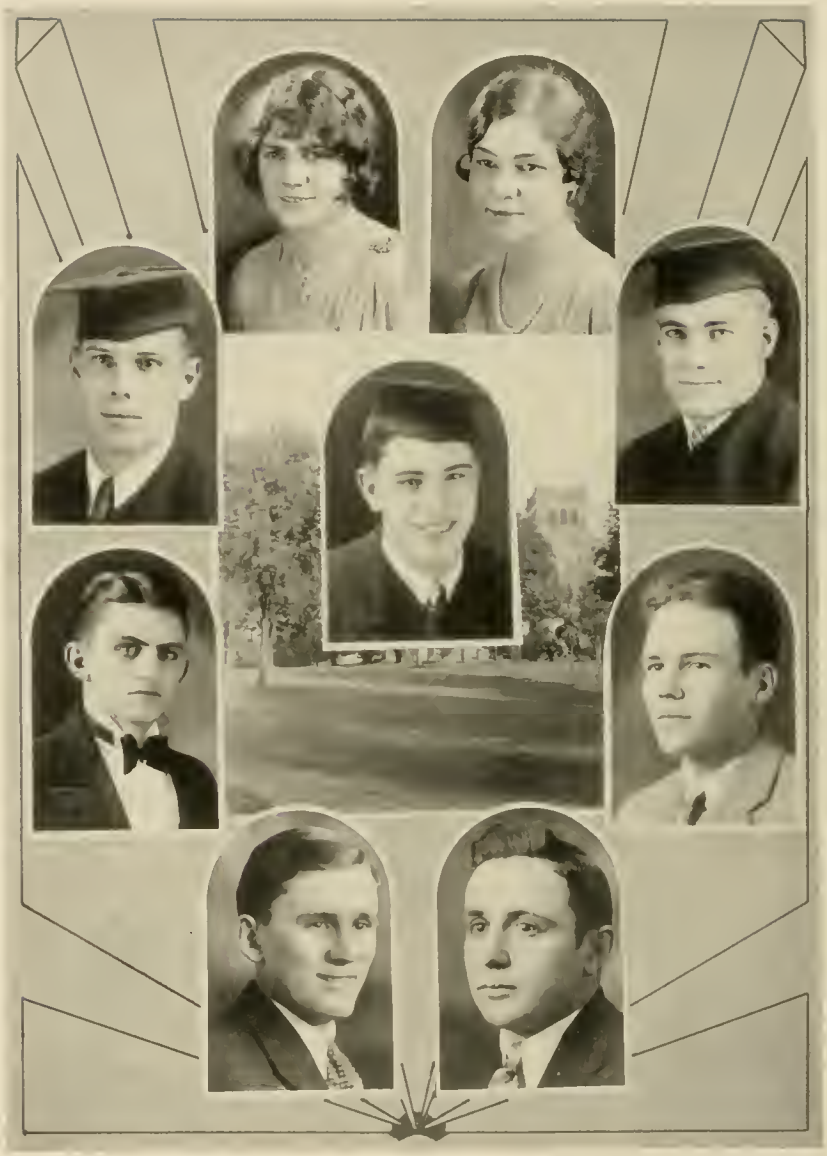
GOVERNMENT



Student Council

The Student Council this year has been very valuable in its services in that it has experimented with many problems and situations, the result of which will mean progress to the Student Governments of the future.

This year the Freshman rules were made in an effort to lift the system from one of subjugation and courseness, to one of high-minded competition, spirited rivalry, and the development of class loyalty.

The Home-coming and Thuse meetings were very successful this year.

The point system, established on a four year basis, with a permanent award, will give it greater value.

The Council devoted its main efforts this year to the establishment of a Vocational Guidance program, securing a known specialist in the field to speak, and affect some organization. It is hoped that it will grow to be a permanent and most valuable institution at Wesleyan.

And finally, the Council instituted a plan of reorganization of Government.

The officers and members are:

The Play Shop

On Monday evening, Novebmer twenty-fifth, nineteen hundred and twenty-nine, a group of experienced players met to organize a new dramatic club. The organization of the new club was under the personal supervision of Professor Lorin C. Staats. This new society chose as its name "The Wesleyan Play Shop", and elected as its president Edward Malcolm.

The nucleus of "The Play Shop" consists of players who have had experience in Wesleyan plays; however, admission into the organization may be gained by activities other than actual participation in plays. Such service as stage management, lighting, business management, and costuming will be sufficient grounds for admission.

This organization incorporates the old members of "Wesleyan Players" and also its alumni members.

The first work of "The Play Shop" was the sponsoring of "The Doll's House", a three act play by Ibsen. The organization was also responsible for a group of one-act plays. "The Valiant", a one-act play, was given and entered in the state contest at Fairmont.

The intention of these dramatists is to build up a strong local organization with the ultimate goal of accouplement with a strong national dramatic fraternity. Although a mere child, as it were, the "Wesleyan Play Shop" may reach the pinnacle of its strivings in the very near future due to the wide popularity and distinction of Wesleyan players heretofore.

Pi Kappa Delta

The West Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta was chartered on Wesleyan's campus in 1928 and since then has won many laurels for itself and for Wesleyan.

During the Forensic season of 1929 the debate teams met and defeated Fairmont, Farmville, Concord and Otterbien, losing to Wilmington, Glenville, and Marshall. The grand finale of the season came at the regional convention of Pi Kappa Delta at Raleigh, N. C., where Pharos Reeder won first place in the extempore speaking, and where the debate team won third place, giving Wesleyan second place in the convention. At the end of the season James Lowther, Farland Arnold, and Lawrence Brooks were initiated along with the girls' auxiliary organization of Tau Delta Rho at a formal banquet.

The past season opened with a win for Wesleyan over Mt. Union College on Friday the Thirteenth of December. Other schools on the schedule were Notre Dame, Wilmington, Marshall, Otterbien, Marietta, Glenville, Fairmont, Salem, and Concord. Those completing the requirements and being taken into membership during the year are Melvin Laing, James Hutchinson, Edward Malcolm, Argyle Knight, and Paul Funk.

Tau Delta Rho

Tau Delta Rho or the Women's Auxiliary Chapter of the West Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, was organized in the spring of 1929.

In 1928-'29 the women debaters won three debates from Otterbien Ohio and West Liberty Normal. They lost to Marshall and engaged in one non-decision with Heidelberg, Ohio.

Debates have been scheduled this year with the following schools: Marshall, a single; Salem, a dual; Keyser, a dual; Wittenberg, Ohio, a dual; University of Cincinnati, a single; and Berea College, Ky., a single.

The group also sponsored debating in the freshman class this year. A tournament was held in February, at which time the winning group of freshmen were given special recognition.

Della Holbert and Wanda Morton entered the Wesleyan oratorical contest. Wanda Morton represented Wesleyan in the annual State Contest.

Wanda Morton and Wanda Myers attended the National Pi Kappa Delta Convention at Wichita, Kansas. Wanda Morton with her oration "The Rock of Ages" took first place in the Nation.

The Haught Literary Club, organized in 1924, is named for its patron, Mr. Thomas W. Haught. The purpose of the Club is to promote literary activity and to honor literary talent on the Campus. Membership in the organization is limited to sixteen actives, elected into the Club by the unanimous approval or by the request of a graduating senior.

As a new feature, the organization has joined the Book-of-the-Month Club. The twelve or more books purchased during this year are to form the nucleus of a library, in the hope that the members in following years will continue the project.

Y. M. C. A.

The year 1930 has proved a fruitful year for the Y. M. C. A., in Wesleyan. Among the local organization's achievements for this year are the holding of the state Y. M. C. A. conference at the local chapter last fall, and the presentation of the Lyceum Course which is sponsored each year by the Young Men's Christian Association.

At the regular meetings of the organization the College man finds a place to discuss the practical problems of student life and a wonderful opportunity to enjoy the fellowship of members of every organization on the campus.

Benzene Ring

From the time of its origin in the Department of Chemistry eight years ago, the Benzene Ring has been one of the strongest and most active organizations on the Wesleyan Campus.

The purpose of the Ring is to create a greater interest in physical science. During the past year several industrial trips have been taken to different cities in the State. Interesting discussions have been held, and experiments performed by the members at various meetings.

A colorful, combustive, and reactive initiation of new members is held each year.

Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association furnishes, in a large measure, an outlet for the spiritual part of the girl's life while at Wesleyan. The weekly meetings afford an opportunity for the girls to gather and discuss topics of vital interest. The aim of the Association is to develop higher spiritual ideals, to solve ethical problems, and to create a lasting fellowship among the girls on the campus.

The year has been a prosperous and helpful one. The conference held on the campus was a very successful one. The splendid cooperation of every Y. W. C. A. girl showed a real spirit of sisterhood. Delegates were sent to different conferences, and the fund for the Spring Conference at Eaglesmere was raised. The organization sent a fifty dollar scholarship to its sister College, Hwa-Nan College, Foochow, China.

It is the desire of every member to promote interest in the Association, to strengthen it, and to make it more successful in the future.

Chi Kappa Alpha

The Chi Kappa Alpha Sorority which was organized late in 1925 was officially organized as a sorority in March, 1926.

As faculty advisor we have Mrs. Judson, chosen this year to replace Miss Lois McCloskey.

From the fall of 1927 until the spring of 1929 the Chi Kappas made their home on the corner of College Avenue and Florida Street. They now reside in the Laides Hall.

This year promises to be a very successful one in the history of the organization. Above all else the sorority hopes to live up to its primary aims, that of being a democratic social organization, upholding the ideals of Wesleyan College.

The Sigma Delta Chi Sorority claims the honor of being the oldest sorority on Wesleyan's Campus, having been organized in 1921 by a small group of Wesleyan girls. Although this group was not officially recognized as a sorority, it functioned as such until February, 1926, when it was recognized as a local sorority.

Sigma Delta Chi is very fortunate and very proud to have Miss Alice Nason as advisor, in which capacity she has served for the last four years.

Many social affairs were given by the sorority which culminated in an elaborate Spring Formal.

The Sigma Delta Chi Sorority aims toward a democratic social organization upholding the ideals of Wesleyan College.

The New Science

By

Ann Lorentz

"The New Science"

The stock-holder's meeting was over; that is, the last purple-faced "holder" had pounded the table with his brawny paw, and wiped the sweat of thoughtfulness from his Platonian brow. The stock-holder's meeting was over.

With a patient, long-suffering sigh, the Sales Manager sank into his chair.

"You know—every one knows—" he said to his secretary and Yes-man, "that I'm a sensitive man whose very life and soul throbs and pulses with the movements of this huge machinery. (Write that sentence down, Panchez; it was very well put.) Men say that I'm a successful man, but to hear the 'powers that be' I'm a fool!" He burst into tears.

The Yes-man did as most yes-men do. He nodded, and gazed sympathetically at the sensitive face, distorted with emotion.

"Our production list is falling behind," sobbed the Sales Manager. "This last year, our marriage rate fell from twenty-five per cent to fifteen per cent. What is to be done? What kind of a matrimonial bureau is this? I've tried, but spring has come late these past two years; parents have treated us shoddily; some of our customers have left without even giving us fair trial! Competition from other companies and cut rates have been our undoing.

He paced back and forth, then going over to his great pine desk, pressed a button, and sat moodily thinking.

A hum of voices outside the door, and the staff slowly filed into the room. There were tall ones and short ones, dark ones, fair ones, and others subject to change. Chosen by the Sales Manager from well-known bureaus all over the world, they were a sturdy, if motley crew, desperate when cornered, and willing to follow their chief to the ends of the earth. They stood now, filled with foreboding by the ominous light in his eyes.

"Gentlemen—and ladies—be seated," said their interlocutor, calmly though his heart was bursting with the pity of it all.

"Our business is at a standstill," choked the Sales Manager. "The stock-holders say that unless our profit shows an increase double that of the past year they will sell us out." Horror registered on every face.

"You remember how it used to be—at the first breath of spring, we would see them flocking to the benches on the lawn, striking for the hills, strolling to the river, sitting on the steps—the net result was marriage after marriage. Now the hard veneer of modern civilization and modern improvements is killing our sales. What are we to do?

Hubbub filled the office. Then one of the group sprang forward, and pounded on the desk. The Sales Manager shuddered, remembering the stock-holder's meeting.

"We'll give parties!" cried this bright-faced, little man. "Oh, goody—I love parties and ice cream and cake."

"Aw, horses!" cried another, "parties are nothing. Any one can give parties. We've given parties. We gotta do something original."

"I don't care, you big, old silly. Lots of people meet their futures at parties, so there!"

A sour look came into the eyes of the foreign representative, and he muttered in a low tone, "Yes, I did." Some one pressed his hand sympathetically, and he glanced around. It was the head of the Ladies' Department. She was always pressing someone's hand.

The head of the Chemistry Research Department stepped forward. "Now it is my belief," he said, "that the climate here is not conducive to marriage. I think it would be well to move further north." There was a babel of conflicting opinions, someone shouted, "It's wrong psychologically!" The Sales Manager buried his head in his hands. The pity of it!

"Chief, Life is like this. We've had our ups and downs We are all faced with sunshine and then cloud," said the Head Salesman, and the Sales Manager nodded somberly.

"Why couldn't we talk to them frankly?" asked the head of the Ladies' Department. "We could tell them about life and plead with them to follow the path of—" she was silenced by a prolonged sound (made by blowing the breath through the teeth with the mouth slightly open and the tongue protruding) from the Head Salesman He blinked his eyes rapidly, and remarked, "I think our methods are a little out-dated. What we need to do is to raise our standard of living."

Suddenly Panchez leaped up. "I have it!" he cried. "We'll forbid it!" There was an awestruck pause, then a cheer split the ceiling, and the whole group went crazy with joy! Ah, that was an exciting moment. Men sobbed in exaltation, and some one fainted.

"Just my own idea," murmured the Sales Manager, and then continued energetically, "I can feel in my soul the longing and love that will enter each heart when we issue our orders." With a few well-chosen words he dismissed the crowd, still faintly cheering.

"And now to business, Panchez. We must revise all the old methods." He looked lovingly at the old filing cabinet in the corner, which held the records of this colossal business. His eyes grew moist as he took out a card.

"Ah, they started the avalanche of '28—do you remember? The dear young things stole off to Oakland, and the next morning the whole bureau was agog." He mused over the faces, and then went through the huge chest until he reached the bottom of the pile.

"Sir," murmured Panchez respectfully, "How about some questionnaires?"

"No!" thundered his chief. "No! You fool—they do nothing but cause trouble!"

"Ah, but wait a minute, sir," faltered Panchez. But the Sales Manager strode to the corner and seized a long whip. After several well-laid blows, he muttered balefully, "Now, I guess you know who runs this organization."

The Yes-man, with an abused look sat down on his stool, and pensively gazed at the floor. His old willing smile was replaced by a pout.

"Now, now, Panchez," cried the Sales Manager, "We'll have no sulking. You tell me about your idea, and we'll forget that the nasty old chief lost his temper. Come on, Panchez, remember the old days."

The Yes-man's lips trembled for a moment, his thumb moved irresistibly toward his nose, he shook his head sulkily, and turned his back. But upon hearing the Sales Manager moving stealthily in the direction of the whip, he threw off his peevishness, and said submissively, "I'll tell you.

"I thought we could find out if they're attached to any one at home; if their parents are liable to interfere; what preferences they have for blonds or brunettes. We'll make this business a real science," cried Panchez. "We'll revolutionize the industry! We can make certain of every couple before they meet!"

"Yes," nodded the Sales Manager, "That's been my idea all along. You're quick to catch on, Panchez—in fact, that's why I like you. Now, I'll draw up the questionnaire, and you run out and tell the staff."

The Yes-man's face grew sullen as he made his way to the door. He started to speak, turned, saw the preoccupied back, made a "snoot" at its broad expanse, and then raced to the front walk.

The staff members, who were playing hop-scotch and leap-frog, shouted a carefree welcome, as he tumbled over the line of bent figures. But the Yes-man burst into tears. They gathered close around him as he told of the Sales Manager's whipping him, and then taking his idea. Expressions of sympathy and condolence broke from every side, and angry looks were turned to the Sales Manager's office.

And as the evening sun poured its molten stream of gold over the long lawn, every member turned his head toward the Sales Manager's office and gave vent to that prolonged sound which is made by blowing the breath through teeth with the mouth slightly open and the tongue protruding.

Winning Victories for You

In war, as Napoleon remarked, it's heavy artillery that wins the victories. In merchandising, it's heavy buying power. The tremendous buying power of the J. C. Penney Stores finds expression in the ability of every store to give you substantial savings in low prices on every purchase you make! Buying in great quantities enables us to secure merchandise—in perfect condition and in the newest styles—at important savings. Let us prove to you—as we have to millions of others—that you may benefit by shopping here where quality goods, alert service and low prices prevail.
